

From: Wayne Kallestad
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 1/24/02 8:11pm
Subject: Microsoft Settlement

Microsoft has already agreed to hide its Internet Explorer icon from the desktop. To continue to punish Microsoft gives a windfall to Netscape and other competitors, but nothing goes to those supposedly harmed, the computer user.

What is happening though is this case is giving the states another method for getting free money and setting a terrible precedent for the future.

The witch hunt has gone on long enough. Please end the case now.

CC: Wayne-Home